The IJIS Institute and Emergency Management Media Group

proudly support outstanding achievement in technology project innovation

The IJIS Institute has teamed with Emergency Management Media Group to support the annual Innovation Award recognizing achievement in information technology that contributes to the advancement of integration and interoperability in a justice, public safety, or homeland security project.

The Innovation Award honors team achievement, recognizing both the industry solution provider and the federal, state, local, or tribal agency implementing the technology.

Take this opportunity to recognize truly successful partnerships between industry and federal, state, local, or tribal practitioners. Nominate a project for the Innovation Award today!

To find out more about the Innovation Award, visit the IJIS Institute web site at
